

I fear that large multimedia companies, Clear Channel in particular, are not working in the public interest. Please limit the number of stations that a single company can own.

thank you.